

CALL FOR PAPERS

23rd International Information Security Conference (SEC 2008)

co-located with IFIP World Computer Congress 2008

Milan, Italy – September 8-10, 2008

The conference seeks submissions from academia, industry, and government presenting novel research on all theoretical and practical aspects of computer security, as well as case studies and implementation experiences. Papers should have practical relevance to the construction, evaluation, application, or operation of secure systems. Theoretical papers must make convincing argument for the practical significance of the results. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

access control	electronic frauds	security management accounting and audit	identity management	smartcards anonymity	information warfare	commercial and industry security applied cryptography	intrusion detection	data and application security authentication	key management	inference/controlled disclosure computer forensics	law and ethics	risk analysis and risk management cryptographic protocols	peer-to-peer security	intellectual property protection database security	privacy-enhancing technology	security in IT outsourcing data protection	secure location services	security for mobile code data/system integrity	secure networking	trust management digital rights management	security education	trust models

Paper submissions. Submitted papers must not substantially overlap papers that have been published or that are simultaneously submitted to a journal or a conference with proceedings. Papers should be at most 15 pages including the bibliography and well-marked appendices (using 11-point font and reasonable margins on letter-size paper), and should be in single-column format. Committee members are not required to read the appendices, and so the paper should be intelligible without them. Submissions are to be made to the submission web site at <http://www.easychair.org/conferences/?conf=sec2008>. Only pdf files will be accepted. Submissions not meeting these guidelines risk rejection without consideration of their merits. Papers must be received by the deadline of January 17, 2008 (extended, firm). Authors of accepted papers must guarantee that their papers will be presented at the conference. Accepted papers will be published by Springer in a conference proceedings. The camera-ready version of the accepted papers must follow Springer guidelines for the IFIP Series available at <http://www.springer.com/series/6102> (see Manuscript Preparation in LaTeX for contributed books under the link "Author Templates"). A Latex source file will be required.
